THE KIND OF LEAD IN PENCILS. The "lead" in lead pencils is not lead at all, though it is called "black lead." The weight, if nothing else, tells you that. It is a mineral, called graphite, (from the Greek word to write,) and is more nearly related to coal than to lead. You have learned that both coal and the diamond are forms of the element, carbon.
Graphite is still another shape in which carbon is found: it usually contains a very little iron. Plumbago is another name for it. It can not b melted, but at a very high heat will burn. The fine kinds are very scarce.

The trade in "blooded" dogs is an item of no little amount. The value of these principally pointers, brought to this country from England during the last two years, is stated to be $100,000. The furore about Laverock's red Irish setters, Gordon's and Kindred breeds, is now as great as was ever that in Japan about spotted rabbits. No dog that costs less than $1,000 is now considered worth owning. These valuable animals have their pedigrees preserved with as much care as the nobility of Eng-

Federal Decoration Day-Interesting Ceremonies-the Blue and the Grey Commingling for the First Time-Eloquent Prayer, Poem and

Yesterday afternoon was observed as Federal Decoration Day in our midst. The programme as announced was strictly carried out. The troops from Federal camp marched down to the Courthouse green at 41 o'clock, joined by the Raleigh Artillery, Capt. A. B. Stronach commanding, and by the Light Infantry, Capt. B. C. Manley commanding, and proceeded by the Stanley band, marched to the Federal Cemetery, just east of the Arriving at the Cemetery the audience was conducted to the grand stand prepared for the speakers and the special guests of the occasion, and the services were opened by prayer Brooklyn, N. Y., represented in this from the Rev. Mr. Marshal, a prayer exceedingly appropriate to the occasion. Then followed the recitation of the poem, "The Blue and the Grey," by Col. I. J. Young, preceded by appropriate remarks.

The Orator of the day, Hon. A. W. Tourgee, was then introduced by Mr. S. D. Wait, Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements. Judge Tourgee spoke for the space of an hour, setting out with the gratulation to himself to witness the soldiers in the grey pararranged and shows a spirit of liberal- ticipating in the memorial services to the honored dead of the North. He referred in touching language to the memory of Lee and Jackson, and the speech throughout was replete with language unobjectionable to either North or South. We have heard but one expression concerning it-that it did justice to the occasion and honor to the speak-

After the oration was concluded, a national salute was fired by a battery of artillery from the Federal camp, during which time the friends of the dead strewed flowers on the many graves in the Cemetery. And thus closed the day.

This is the first time since the late war that the Southern soldier has marched with the Federal soldiers to the decoration of Federal graves, and we hope it will have the effect of showing the people of the North that all animosities have been buried by the Southern people, and that we are again ready to become members in every sense of the grand Federation which we celebrated at Charlotte only a few days since.

We feel sure that all right thinking minds and lovers of peace in our land will unite with us in remarking the where for the first time since the war the "Blue and Grey" blended harmoniously together in humble tribute to the Union dead. As an old soldier of the immortal army of Northern Virginia, we feit that the eyes of our beloved chieftain were upon us with a smiling and welcome approval. It was a scene fraught with many unpleasant recollections of the past, that should be forever buried in oblivion; a scene that recalls us back to the days when our grandsires marched side by side in the eventful struggle of a century ago, which gained us the freedom we now enjoy a scene that not only reflects credit on the officers and members of the Raleigh military companies, but up-on our entire good old North State and proves to the people and press of the North that we are a generous

Court House was not large, but represented nearly all the business interests of the city. The railroad men of the place were all out, and great interest was manifested by all.

The case was opened by Mr. Strudwick, Solicilor of the 5th District, reading the return of the officer Scott, stating that he held the petitioners, A. S. Buford and W. H. Green, under a warrant for changing the auge of the North Carolina Railroad rom Greensboro to Goldsboro.

Mr. Ashe moved the discharge of the prisoners, because the act under which the arrest was made, was void. He claimed that the Act was in vio ation of the Constitution of North Carolina, Art. 1, section 17, which provides that no person shall be de-prived of his property except by the law of the land, and secondly, that it violated that provision of the Const, of the United States, prohibiting any

Under the first branch, he insisted that as the Act was in its terms plainly repugnant to Art. 1, sec. 17, constitution of North Carolina, un less it could be supported on some of the acknowledged principles creating exceptions to that section.

He said the principle of Eminent Domain could not apply, because there was no just compensation offer-ed or provided for in the act. That if it could be supported at all it must be under the principle that the State could make general police regula-tions which may effect rights and Property.

He discussed this matter at some length, quoting authorities to show the limits which the courts had ever placed to the exercise of this power. 'hat the regulations must be to provide for the comfort of the citizens of the protection or safety of property persons. Under this head, fell the right to regulate commerce, to regulate the speed of railroad cars, to blow up houses in times of fires, &c. But it had never been extended to interfer ing with the gauges of railroads. He challenged the production of any authority to the contrary.

It must be, indeed a police regulation, and not an attempt to deprive a corporation of a substantial right. If the Legislature should attempt to do this, under cover of a tion, its act was void. He then dis He was followed by Solicitor Strudthe Bank. An act was passed by the Legislature subsequent to the grant-ing of the charter of the Bank, making it a crimnal offence for any Bank to issue notes under a certain denomination. The Bank of Fayetteville continued to issue notes under the prescribed denomination in defiance of the law. The cashier was indicted and the Supreme Court decided the law unconstitutional, acthough it was argued by his counsel that the charter was a contract between the State and the Bank and the Legislative enactment was in violation of the same; but the Supreme Court held that the silence of the charter on the subject left it with-in the power of the Legislature to control the issues of the Bank under sovereign power to regulate the com-merce of the State. He argued that the principles involved in this case were the same. That the charter of the N. ('. THE INDIANS TO SELL BLACK HILLS FOR $25,00.—Colonel Charles E. Emmett, an old government scout and frontier guide, better known as "Dashing Charley," informed the Black Hill adventurers at the Assembly Buildings last night that he had just returned from Washington by the evening train, and before he left had a long conversation in the Sioux tongue, with which he is thoroughly conversant, with Spotted Tail and Red Cloud. THE University of Virginia has reached its fiftieth year. Its libera system of study and its high standard of scholarship have brought it up more nearly to the grade of European Universities than any on this continent. Harvard and Yale not excepted. We are glad to hope that in most respects, the University of this State will follow in its footsteps, though for the present at an humble distance. At the time of writing we have just heard of the action of Judge Schenck, in the case of Col. Buford, arrested at Greensboro for violation of the law forbidding changes of gauge. We incline to the opinion that the arrest was a matter of understanding. It is said on street that the gauge is to be chared to Goldsboro by the first of I If that be the case, the future must be very well understood between the parties.

WILLIAM TWEED, the famous "Boss" of New York, is in a condition now somewhat typical of his huge crimes. He has grown so monstrous that he is unable to enter any door to the cells, and is provided with quarters elsewhere. Tweed is the solitary monument of the vengeance of the law visible upon men high in place, and nature seems determined to make him a

A SLENDID SLEEPING CAR.-A splendid sleeping car, of the Lu-cas Patent and make, passed through town Monday, enroute south. It is designed, we hear, to run these cars on all the roads in the south, in opposition to the Pullman cars.— Weidon News.

The Pullman Car Company has become extremely obnoxious throughout the South, in consequence of its too ready adhesion to the demands of the Civil Rights bill, and on the more Southern roads the traveling public have ceased altogether to ride in the

THE plain talk President Grant has had with the Sioux Indians has been, or ought to have been refreshing from its novelty. Plain truth and fearless criticism are things not often heard by ears poisoned with flattery. It is the desperate effort on the part of those savages to escape from the toils which have been thrown around them, and to break down the power of the Agents who have cheated and degraded them while at the same time defranding the government. And it is these agents who have so debased the character of the Indians, that little interest is felt in their farther fate. They are only interesting now as furnishing another mistreatment of retribution to the promoters of socalled Indian policy.

Ir the exaction of the iron clad oath from Southern gentlemen taking position in the Philadelphia Centennial is authentic and authoritative, then so far as the South is concerned, that centennial is at an end, for no insult would be resented so promptly as the attempt to bind the actions and conscience of men as free as those of Pennsyl vania, and as loyal, by the degrading restrictions imposed by the infamous Legislature that succeeded theward YH HOHTO

But we look upon the thing as icke. Shall a Southern gentleman en ter the Congress of the United States upon the same footing as a Representative of the Northern States. and shall be be excluded, except by a degraded concession, from a celebration of a national event, the most striking enunciation of which was that all men were born free and equal? Shall a Philadelphia comittee presume to decide upon Southern loyalty and affix a test for its sincerity, when Congress itself has abdicated that offensive power?

time whether this thing is a joke that a name, honored through the or a reality. If the latter, the South will be spared much trouble and expense in preparation.

THERE is a universal complaint of hard times, not only at the South but even at the North. The fountains of wealth there have congealed. Money ceases to flow as it did two years ago, and the flush times are over. Economy is the order of the day with those who were lately so lavish with their means, and with the poor, or unemployed the pressure of want is tightening with deadly force. The panic of '73 is still in force in effect though over in name, for the new lessons taught by it are in force. The ultimate effects are no doubt beneficial. Nothing was hurrying this country more rapidly to its ruin than the reckless extravagance of the people, and the facility with which money was obtained by the rich threw wide open all the doors to corruption.

Economy is a necessity to the South, and anything ought to be welcomed as a blessing which will compel her to practice it. She will never become rich or independent so long as she exchanges her agricultural matter for the brilliant toys of the North. Her cotton crop adds nothing to her resources so long as it goes to pay for equipages and costly apparel, and jewels and furniture, or costly houses, or exchanged for fertilizers and mules and corn and bacon, the most of which ought to be raised at home. Since 1866 the value of the cotton crop has averaged at least two hundred and twenty-five millions a year. In ten years an amount almost too large to express in fig-

Where is it, and what has it done? Are the people generally much better off? True, and a very important use of it, the ruin caused by the war has been largely effaced, and many broken fortunes recuperated. But perhaps not more than a tithe has remained at home, whi'e all the other proceeds of this immense fund, added to that of the other great staple, have gone north to swell the wealth of that section in paving for luxuries the hardships and privations of the war should have taught the Southern people to dispense with.

Economy, self-reliance, the production within itself of most of the necessaries of life, will make the South the richest portion of the Union, and will compel more speedily than anything else the respect of the North and the observance of constitutional obligations. The contrary will keep her poor, and the foot-ball of the fanatic and the prev of the carpet-bagger.

GRANT NOT A CANDIDATE FOR THE THIRD-TERM NOMINA-TION,

The general public has been looking on with much amusement at the extreme reticency of Grant in regard to the third-term nomination and the evident anxiety felt by his party in the premises. But all efforts to draw this official out as to his views in the premises proved fruitless, until the Pennsylvania Republican convention gave him a broad side in its declaration against the third term. This was too much for his stoicism, and our telegrams inform us that the President on Saturday addressed a letter to the President of the Pennsylvania Republican convention, in which he says, "he is not, nor has he ever been a candidate for renomination : nor would he accept a renomination if it were tendered him, unless it should come under such circumstances as to make it an imperative duty." The "circumstances" are not likely to arise, we should think, but it must be a matter of gratulation doubtless to his party friends to know that his mouth has been unsealed at last.

Tus time for the selection of the Faculty is near enough at hand to excite much interest and anxiety on the subject. As we said before, North Carolinans should be preferred first, Southerners should be had if possible, but at all events the best men must be had. In the Republic of letters, it is certainly possible to obtain those of such liberal voices that they will be above all political prejudices. In 'ac, of this, there is little to be feared. The only fear is that men of letters are not always enough men of the world to adapt themselves to the disposition and habits of thought of young men of the different sections. and this is the foundation of that policy which suggests native-born professors, and not the fear of unfavorable influences excited by Northern men or foreigners upon the political sentiments of the student A difficulty may be experienced in the selection of a President, or

South and respected through the nation, would have the same influence upon the fortunes of the University of North Carolina as the selection of Gen'l Lee as the head of Washington College. But such may not be willing to accept such a position readily, either from inadequacy of salary or incompatibility of occupation. In such case the University must depend for the while upon the character reflected through the Faculty, and must be content with perhaps a slower growth, though reaching quite as solid a prosperity. A BRAIN DESTROYING MALADY.-That A BRAIN DESTROYING MALADY.—That insomn a, or inability to sleep, has become very prevalent of late years, is sufficiently evidenced by the fact that numberless remedies have been introduced within the last decade specially intended for its cure, and that new sedatives are continually cropping up. But no medicinal agent has so widely and clearly established its claims as a genuine soporific as Hostetter's Stomach Etters. That it removes this brain destroying inability far more effectually than the bromides, chlorals and valerianates in use, is not to be wondered at when we consider the tsuch drugs act only on the brain, which is not the source of the evil, while the Etters rectify the alimentary disturbances which originate it. It is evil, while the Bitters rectify the alimentary disturbances which originate it. It is

FULL PARTICULARS OF THE GREAT CHURCH DIS 'STER.

Actual Personal Violence Used to Keep Back Women - Husbands Looking for Wives, Wives for Husbands. Children for Parents, Parents for Children-Searching for the Bodies-The Identification-Fifty Alie dy Taken Out-Over seventy Lives Known to be Lost-Many Bodies Burned Beyond Idenification-Men Becoming Insane Over their Losses.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., May 28. Of course, the intensest excitement nrevailed last night in the streets of olyoke centreing opposite the surch at which the fire occurred, and at various points to which the were made by people to rush pell-nell into the burning building to scue their friends, and it was with ifficulty they were kept back. This as particularly the case with parents the had, on the first impulse, rushed m the church to save their own ves, but suddenly remembered they had left children behind to perish.

Actual personal violence had to be sed in several cases to keep women back. All about the streets men, women and children were wandering, piteously inquiring if their friends ad been saved. One woman was positive that her husband had perished, and could only be quieted by as-surance from a friend that he had just been walking with him. ONE OF THE MOST TOUCHING CASES was that of two little girls about velve years of age, who rushed for the entrance of the building while e fire was at its height, thinking to their father and mother who ere within. They could only be retrained by an officer, who took them hise.rms. Those engaged in pullng out bodies noticed that almost very woman had a bracelet on her ist, and all had evidently worn ir best for a special occasion. It a disputed question whether both he front doors were available for esape. There are those who state postively that one of them was closed, and that it was impossible to open it it is asserted, went to the closed door and flourishing a club threatened lence to any one who came near order to get the crowd away, but without success. Others state as positively that both doors were open.

THE CHURCH SOCIETY was established about four years ago and Father Dufresne had been the only pastor. The parish included all French Catholics of the city, whose number is estimated at from 2,000 to 500 persons. The church was erectin 1870, and its dimensions were bout 100 feet by 60, two stories, built ntirely of pine, with galleries on hesides and north end about twendive feet wide. There were two ors in the north end and a vestibule, from which two doors opened the body of the church. Galleries pened into the vestibule. At the rear end was another door, by which few persons escaped. INCIDENTS OF THE FIRE.

Immediately upon the breaking at of the flames all occupants of the calleries rushed to the east door and rowded, so that they fell upon one another and choked up the doorway with their bodies piled in all ways even or eight feet deep, and here most of the lives were lost. From this mass Chief Mullin rescued one ung woman aftertaking off two dead dies from above her. It was al most impossible to face the flames, and Chief Mullen and others had heir clothes almost burned from hem, and were badly burned themlyes about the hands. In rear of he church was the priest's residence which was also destroyed. The fire was nearly put out. One woman amped from the highest window down upon the front steps, breaking an arm, but she is not known to have been otherwise injured. A man with two children in his arms umped from a window and escaped. ne poor woman enveloped in flames shrieked out, "For God's sake, save me," and she was dragged out by John Lynch.

OTHER BODIES PROBABLY UNDISCOV-

ERED. The latest dispatch to the Republican from Holyoke says it is not quite certain that all the bodies have been taken from the ruins. In the taste to get as many as possible from he building before it fell many were aken out a short distance and it is ossible that a few more may be taken rom the debris. Without a moment's cause to consider their danger Lyncn and Cheif Engineer Mullin rushed into the flames spurred on by the piteous cries—"for God's sake come nd help us"—and began pulling out odies. A moment later and a wel! rected hydrant stream from the Mount Holyoke hose struck the grave rescuers and undoubtedly saved them from being burned alive The first persons drawn out were hurning, but they passed directly through a stream of water and the lames which were devouring them were extinguished. Some of the poor reatures fell fainting on a long flight wooden steps leading down to the treet, and a few were able to walk, ough with considerable effort. By is time the entire Fire Depar. me: t had arrived and worked with such chergy and will that when the fire was extinguished the charred woodwalls of the structure were staning and were pulled down by hook d a lder men in order that search for the bodies might be made.

IDENTIFYING THE REMAINS. The bodies of fifty persons, burfied to death at Holyoke last night, have been identified in addition to those fifteen or twenty, who were at one emoved to their homes by their fiends. Nearly seventy have died, nd some forty more are more or less durined or otherwise injured. The dero of the disaster was John Lynch brave fireman, who was the first to respond to the alarm. He desibed the scene when he reached edged tight and immovable in the orways was a dense mass of hufrom six to eight feet in eight, none of them able to stand right from the terrible pressure of he crowd behind, while upon and wer them a sheet of fire rolled like a ave streaming far out into-the open

THE RAPID DESTRUCTION OF LIFE. Only a very few moments comparavely elapsed after the water struck he building before the fire was out, but the destruction of life during that brief period of time was terrible. dows, and were seriously injured, and one person appeared at the window completely wrapped in flames, and after tottering there an instant fell to the ground dead, and unrecognizable. Hundreds of men went to work as soon as opportunity offered to search for the bodies, and a force of relies was area lead to be a search of the bodies. force of police was organized to keep back the large crowd which had cathered.

THE WORK OF EXTRICATING BODIES was sad ince d, and a greater number of them were found in the fatal entryway, burned some of them to a crisp. The body of one woman was found in the seat she had occupied, her clothing entirely burned off. A fleshy woman, welghing some 180 pounds, was dragged screaming from the mass. She was carried as short the mass. She was carried a short distance from the church and placed on the grass, while the flesh actually peeled off her back. In a moment she fell over dead. The scenes last night and to-day in the schoolhouse basement, where the bodies of the dead were carried, were heartrending in the extreme. Stumps of BURNED TO A CRISP protuded from under sheets, and as a face-cloth was lifted from the heads, the scarred and blackened remains were disclosed. In some intances features were distorted as though extreme agony had been suffered before death ensued; but many looked calm as though smothered, yet they were blackened with smoke. Some were burned beyond the possibility of identification—nothing remaining but the trunk of the body. A coroner's jury was summound of y, but the excitement continues so intense that it was judged best not to attempt the taking of evidences, and the inquest was ad-journed till Monday. Louis Desjardin, fifty-four years old, whose wife and daughter were both burned to death, became insane to-day from grief, and cried continually in agon-izing tones, "O, my Julie! My Ju-

The fare of Amminie Menier and her lover was a strange event of the fire. She was the organist for the evening in the absence of the regular one, and was cut off from escape when the church was burned. Her lover escaped, but finding that she was still within, turned to rescue her and was overcome by the flames and perished with her.

A kind-hearted Danbury woman gave a tramp one old shoe, and told him that she would keep the other for the next unfortunate who might come along.

This load, when its connections shall be completed, will form one of the most Importance in the entire south. Its length is 142 mites, of which 115 miles is complete; that is from Salisbury to Old Fort in McDowell county, at the Eastern base of the Blue; Ridge; and the greater part of the remainder of the road is graded, or nearly so.

There has already been expended upon this road, about $6,000,000.00. It is now sold to satisfy a debt of about $1,400,40 (0)—which constitutes the first lien upon the property. The Commissioners believe that the title of the purchaser will be good.

> J. H. ZEILIN & CO., Macon, Ga., and Philadelphia.

THE SYMPTOMS of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is MISTAKEN for rhetunatism. The stomach is affected with BOSSOF APPETITE and sickness, bowels in general contive, concetimes alternating with lax. The HEAD is troubled with pain, and dnill heavy sensation, considerable LOSSOF MEMORY, accompanied with painful sensation of having LEFT UNDONG something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, DEBILITY, and low spirits. Sometimes MASY of the above symtomy attend the disease, and at other times very FEW of them; but the LIVER is generally the organ most involved.

Nearly all diseases originate from Indigestion and Torpidity of the Liver, and relie is always anxiously sought after. If the Liver is Regulated in its action, heafth is almost invariably secured. Want of action in the Liver causes Headache, Constipation, Jaundice, Pain in the Shoulders, Cough, Chilis, Dizzinezs, Sour Stomach, bad taste in the mouth, Bilions attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, depression of spirits, or the blues, and a hundred other symptoms, for which SIMBONS' LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has ever been discovered. It sets mildly, effectually, and being a simple vegetable compound, can do no injury in any quantities that it may be taken. It is harmless in svery way; it has been used for forty years, and hundreds of the good and great from all parts of the country will vouch for its being the purest any best.

The Elgee Cotton Case. WASHINGTON, May 31.—The Court of Claims overruled the motion for a of Claims overruled the motion for a new trial in the Elgee Cotton Case, in which an award of three hundred and sixty thousand dollars had been awarded. The overruling is without prejudice, and the motion for a new trial can be renewed by the United States if the books of the purchasing agent of the so-called Confederate States can be produced, showing that Elgee sold his cotton to the Confederate States Government. The evidence can be presented to the Chief Justice of the court, who will remain in Washington during the greater part of the vacation. Several additional affidavits were read by the Assistant Attorney General, tending to show that Elges sold his cotton to the Confederate Government, and therefore the claim was improperly allowed. The court adjourned until Monday the 29th of November next.
